—Peak Of Defense Build-Up 12 Months Away— Study Of Economic Future Is Ordered

Secretary Sawyer Seeks A Guide To Way Of Continued High Production In America

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government announced Thursday night it is launching a study of business and employment prospects after the peak of the defense build-up about 12 months from now.

The giant rearmament program is recognized as a major factor in American prosperity today.

The immediate aim, Secretary of Commerce Sawyer said, is to appraise "potential markets for goods and services which will be available or may be stimulated after the present defense build-up has been completed."

And the goal behind that, he said, is to guide the way to continued operation of the U. S. economy at high production levels.

Will Work With CED
Sawyer ordered commerce department economists to get to work on the study right away in co-operation with the Committee for Economic Development (CED), a private business research and planning organization.

The project will be similar to a Commerce Department-CED study undertaken in 1943, when some economists predicted that after World War II the country would be plunged into a depression, with heavy unemployment, while shifting back to a peacetime footing.

Sawyer recalled that the 1943 study's conclusions challenged many of the dire forecasts of the time and proved in the end to be substantially accurate.

Full Report by Jan. 1
"I believe the work being undertaken will produce an equally authentic and helpful result," he said.

Sawyer said the new appraisal of the nation's economic future will be published by next Jan. 1. Meanwhile, he will provide information from time to time "on the status of the study and what major conclusions are indicated."

Because defense production is expected to reach its peak about mid-1953, Sawyer said, the economists will base their study on "probable conditions and problems which will exist after that date."

More Rain Is On State Menu

(By The Associated Press)

Scattered showers or thunderstorms were back on Nebraska's weather menu Friday.

Forecasters said the state could expect rain along with temperatures ranging up to near 90 degrees.

The forecast of rain, however, failed to throw fear into persons living along the Big Blue River. The stream was dropping from Crete down stream and there appeared no danger of rising again to dangerous proportions.

The Big Blue, which rose rapidly after week-end rains of over seven inches, was down to 12.51 feet at Beatrice Thursday and to below 20 feet at Crete.

Opium Seized

LOS ANGELES (INS) — The biggest narcotics raid in 20 years, in which $100,000 worth of raw opium smuggled in from Mexico was seized, was announced here by Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz Thursday.

Arrested were four suspects, two of them Mexican "wetbacks."

Meeting At Huskerville Called To Slow Fears Of Polio

... Alarm Said 'Out of Proportion' To Situation; Home Nursing Course Planned

To counter-act alarm which has "grown out of proportion to the polio situation" in Huskerville, several agencies interested in polio and public health Thursday took three steps:

1. They scheduled a parent's public meeting at Huskerville Friday night to discuss and explain the polio situation and point out precautions that should be taken;

2. They made plans for a home nursing course to be given Huskerville mothers; and they

3. Urged that names and addresses of polio victims be released by the city-county health department to the press, so that the public would be assured they are getting "all the facts."

The action followed the second Huskerville polio fatality, that of five-year-old Richard Donnelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Donnelly of 22 A. Huskerville, early Thursday at a local hospital.

Represented at Thursday's meeting, called by the Lincoln-Lancaster County Health Department's acting director, Lester Sanger, were the State Health Department, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and the county chapter of the Foundation, the city safety and welfare department, and the management of the Huskerville Housing authority.

At the present time, it was announced, there have been 17 cases reported in Lancaster County—eight from Huskerville and nine from Lincoln.

The only other polio death of the year in the County was also from Huskerville.

Several present Thursday said they had received phone calls from parents worried about the Huskerville situation.

It is true, said Dr. E. A. Rogers, State Health Department director, that Huskerville has a greater incidence of polio per population than any other place in the state, but many parents have become overly alarmed.

Some of this, it was pointed out, was because people felt "something is being withheld and the situation is worse than it really is," because newspapers haven't been given the full facts, such as names and addresses, to print.

The City-County Health Department recently adopted a policy of releasing daily only the number of polio cases in the county, and not the names or addresses of the patients.

Sanger said he would ask the Board to reconsider its policy.

The Friday night Huskerville Chapel meeting will include a talk by a Lincoln physician familiar with polio symptoms and treatment, and others of the group that met Thursday, and will include a question-and-answer session.

The situation "as it really exists" will be laid before the parents at the meeting.

The home nursing course will be organized by the Red Cross and taught by City-County public health nurses.

A brother of the Donnelly boy, two-year-old William James, has been taken to Orthopedic hospital for observation.

Surviving beside the parents and brother are the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James T. Connelly of Indianapolis and Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Young of McCook.

Assistance Controls Safeguard, 3 Builders Agree On Contracts

Board Of Control Head Asserts

Controls on state assistance programs, being used after recommendations by advisory committees, are in reality safeguards for the program, involved, Mrs. Harold Prince, chairman of the State Board of Control, asserted Thursday.

She explained that should health costs reach a point of depleting appropriations, the law provides for an "across the board" reduction in payments to those in need of help.

"There is no thought being given to denying needed medical aid, but we are seeking cooperation to prevent needless expenditures on hypochondriacs," Mrs. Prince commented.

The saving in cash, the report stated, was 5.5 per cent in old age grants and 15.4 per cent in ADC.

Credits Counties
Credit for the change was given to the counties, who have been making "more cautious appraisals" of those being aided, Mrs. Prince said.

The Board explained that the counties have been more careful in giving consideration to responsibility of relatives to care for the aged. Increased old age insurance payments are also keeping many from seeking relief grants.

Nebraska had 21,326 persons on old age assistance rolls and 6,845 on aid to dependent children rolls in May, 1952, compared to 22,801 and 8,229 respectively in May a year ago.

Payments were $1,119,116 for old age and $285,298 for A D C in May this year, compared to $1,184,211 and $305,268 respectively in May, 1951.

While there are only about 1,000 strikers, union members from other crafts and trades have refused to cross picket lines against AGC.

The carpenters' rates as sought above are now $2.12½ an hour. The desired scale would equal the Omaha rate.

The expected signing by the independent contractors is the first indication of a possible break in the four-day union-AGC deadlock.

Officials from both groups, however, would not say how long they expected the strike to continue.

Gradwohl stated the unions are prepared for the strike to be "a long range affair." An AGC spokesman stated there was nothing new so far as the company was concerned and that a three weeks strike wouldn't hurt them.

Flip-Flop On Taft-Hartley Law May React In Kefauver's Favor

Bitterness Bubbles Beneath Surface Despite Air Of Harmony As Demos Gather In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Richard B. Russell's bid for union labor support with his promise to overhaul the Taft-Hartley Law began to backfire Thursday among Dixie delegates to next week's Democratic national convention.

Signs appeared that Russell's strategic flip-flop—he voted originally for Taft-Hartley and against a presidential veto—might react in favor of a major rival, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

But Russell was sticking to predictions that he will capture the Democratic nomination with the help of hard core Southern support. Kefauver wasn't budging from his stand that the party will tap him.

And a third entrant in the race, Mutual Security Director Averell Harriman, hopped into town with his own victory prediction. More are on the way. Vice President Alvin W. Barkley and Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma are due Friday.

Everybody Polite
Everybody was being nice and polite—no name calling or harsh words for opposition camps. Kefauver paid an informal call at Russell headquarters, for a look around and a friendly chat.

Yet bitterness over labor questions, civil rights and delegate contests bubbled just beneath the surface display of calm and harmony—in Chicago and as far away as Roanoke, Va.

Here in this convention city, various organized labor leaders were passing out word to reporters that they still are afraid of Russell, despite his announcement Wednesday night that he favors supplanting the Taft-Hartley law with new legislation on which labor and management might agree.

Union spokesmen let it be known that they would be inclined to accept Kefauver in preference to Russell—if "Fair Dealer" Harriman can't make the grade.

In Roanoke, 2,000 Virginia Democrats met to pick delegates to the party's national convention and hesitated at going through with plans to endorse Russell.

After that, the Virginians voted to send to Chicago an un-instructed, 28-vote delegation that will be free to bolt if platform and nominee are not to its liking.

Russell had no comment on the action of the Virginia convention, nor is he prepared, he told a reporter, to specify at this time just what changes he would make in the Taft-Hartley Law.

Southerners Worried
Southerners, too, were showing some concern over the idea that Harriman might get a tap on the shoulder from President Truman.

Some were suggesting that in that event Kefauver might be a better bet than Russell to head off Harriman.

Harriman is reaching for the nomination as an all-out supporter of the "New Deal" and chairman, has announced the following route: West on O to 9th street, north on 9th to disband on P and Q.

Included in the parade will be a representation from each of the 15 districts in the state: The Lincoln, Kearney, Auburn, Superior and the Norfolk Midget drum corps; the Friesland and Plattsmouth high school bands; Lincoln baton twirlers; and the National Guard.

The Lincoln Fire Department will have a fire truck in the parade manned by Legion members of the department. The Lincoln Police Department's Legion members have also been invited to participate.

Plans Announced For State Legion Parade Monday
American Legionnaires, meeting in Lincoln for their state convention Saturday through Tuesday, July 19 through July 22, will stage a parade through downtown streets at 2 p.m. Monday.

The parade will form at 15th and O, south toward the State Capitol. Trev Gillespie, parade chairman, has announced the following route: West on O to 9th street, north on 9th to disband on P and Q.

Included in the parade will be a representation from each of the 15 districts in the state: The Lincoln, Kearney, Auburn, Superior and the Norfolk Midget drum corps; the Friesland and Plattsmouth high school bands; Lincoln baton twirlers; and the National Guard.

Union Airport Bid Opening Is Friday
Bids will be opened Friday on construction of runway improvements at Union Airport.

While no estimates have been published, there is about $80,000 available for runway work. One runway is to be extended from 1,800 to 2,500 feet and resurfaced.

All money for the work will come from the Chamber of Commerce. Engineering work is being supplied by the city.

On Monday, the city legal department is expected to have three Union leases ready for signing by the Council.

MP AT TRUCE TALKS:
Lt. Kenneth Oehrlie, Military Police security officer at the Panmunjom truce talks site for six months, feels confident that peace will soon become a reality in Korea.

"It's my own opinion, of course," Lt. Oehrlie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Oehrlie, 2934 Sheridan Blvd., added, "but I think that all of us who were up there felt that eventually a peace will be worked out."

Oehrlie returned to the States June 27 after spending nearly two years in Korea.

Oehrlie was stationed at the check point a mile from the truce talk site.

"Most of our screening problems dealt with sightseers," the lieutenant explained. "I've turned away men from the rank of private to full colonels. The colonels always had the best excuses for entering the area. I was just thankful that I never had to tell a general he couldn't get in."

The sightseers' wanted pictures of the truce talk area for the most part, according to Oehrlie.

The attitude of the Chinese Communists was "not friendly, but not belligerent either," Lt. Oehrlie said.

He went up as security officer for the truce talk area at one time. "Nam II drives a 1948 or 1949 Chrysler which the Communists got after the first evacuation of Seoul," Oehrlie said. "I guess it doesn't bother him any to be riding around in one of our old movies of the peace meeting area and of the delegates."

A force of 30 men stays in the truce talk area at all times. Lt. Oehrlie said. Twelve MPs, six cooks, two engineering detachments manning the searchlights and balloons marking the limits of the area, 25 maintenance forces, and the 12 delegates comprise the UN staff. "We all lived in an apple orchard at Munsan-ni and the Communists stayed in Kaesong, I think," he said.

Lt. Oehrlie, making use of his photographic hobby, took 700 feet of film during his tour.

1,001 In County Eligible Under Korea GI Bill

Lancaster County's 1,001 Korean veterans will be eligible Aug. 20 for training in higher institutions, on-the-job, on-the-farm and vocational institutions under the new GI Bill signed by President Truman Wednesday.

A total of 9,255 Nebraskans are still in training under these programs sponsored by Public Law 346, passed for World War II Veterans, according to the regional Veterans Administration.

Benefits under the Korean veteran bill will be available to any veteran who served in the armed forces since June 27, 1950.

About 35,000 Nebraskans are eligible or will become eligible under the new bill, according to Brig. Gen. Guy N. Henninger, state adjutant general and director of selective service.

The State Department of Veterans Affairs said that 9,787 Korean veterans from Nebraska have been released from service already.

The University of Nebraska expects from 300-500 Korean veterans to enroll as students under the new bill next fall.

GIs Healthy But Rare Fever Still Present

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The Eighth Army in Korea is the healthiest the United States ever put into the field, but it is troubled again this year with cases of that rare and mysterious disease—Manchurian Fever.

The fever caused minor trouble last year, and this year the cases amount to only a minute fraction of the 250,000 United Nations troops in Korea.

Through June, 418 cases of Manchurian, or Hemorrhagic, fever have been reported among the troops. The death rate is less than 4 per cent.

Despite the small percentage figures, Army doctors have so effectively dominated other diseases among the troops that Manchurian Fever constitutes one of their biggest problems. Malaria has been whipped, and intestinal disorders, numerically the biggest problem outside battle casualties, are seldom serious.

Medical authorities are putting everything, including study teams from the United States, into combating the fever under a program set up by the Eighth Army surgeon, Col. L. Holmes Ginn, of DeLand, Fla.

Kunkel Arraignment For Escape Is Friday

Thomas F. Kunkel, 20, who escaped from the Penitentiary Sunday and was picked up near St. Joseph, Mo., Monday, will be arraigned in District Court Friday.

Deputy County Attorney Elmer Scheele said.

Kunkel has told police that he had used a dump truck taken from the Schwark Excavating Company, 4813 Lowell, to travel to Marysville, Kan., during the escape. The truck was found about 10 miles from Marysville. He told Detectives Clarence Schwarz and Robert Swadlow that he used to work for the company.

Kunkel, who was serving a year for burglary, "walked away" from a dairy detail Sunday.

OPS Planning 60 Per Cent Cut In Personnel

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Price Stabilization disclosed Thursday that its enforcement staff will be slashed about 60 per cent in personnel dismissals made necessary by congressional cuts of the agency's operating funds.

The agency outlined in a detailed statement its over-all plans to release 6,150 of its approximately 12,000 employees by Sept. 1.

In the Kansas City, Mo., region and its four regional offices in Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa, a reduction from 564 to 238 is contemplated between now and Sept. 1. The Nebraska district office is in Omaha.

Nebraska's Oceans

Have you watched the waving oceans of wheat? The warm Nebraska wind touches the edge of the field, starting a ripple. The wave rolls on over like the swells in a sea.

Soon, Nebraska's "oceans" will be harvested. Gushers of golden grain will pour into bins all over the state. Nebraska will add another tremendous wheat harvest to the world's market basket.

All Nebraskans can well be proud of their part in feeding the world.

Nebraskans can be proud too, that their state is known for having a brewing industry which carries on a vigorous educational campaign among its retailers. Nebraska tavern men are known as sincere merchants who strive to conduct their places in the public interest.

300 Perform As Finale To Public Schools' 'Summer Music Program'

An estimated 300 students, ranging from grade to high school age, performed before an audience of equal size Thursday night as the wind, orchestra and band classes of the Lincoln High School Music Program came to an end.

The youngsters—some of whom were not much larger than their instruments—held the concert in the Lincoln High auditorium under the direction of Lyle Welch and Bernard Nevin.

There were six parts to the program with different students participating in each. Nevin directed the beginning

York Boy Dies After Dive Into Shallow Water

HEMINGFORD, Neb. (AP)—A 19-year-old boy was killed Wednesday afternoon when he dove into the shallow water at the south end of Lake Felton Dam in the Niobrara River.

Roy Rosenquist of York died before a doctor could reach the scene. Rosenquist has been pulled from the water by his companions, who said he was conscious when they brought him to shore.

A Hemingford doctor said the boy suffered a sheared second cervical vertebra of the spine. He was a member of a harvest crew working near here.

New Transfusion Method Is Shown

Nearly 50 Lincoln and Southeast Nebraska nurses saw a demonstration of new techniques in administering blood transfusions.

Carlton H. Moore of Abbott Laboratories in Chicago, speaking at the regular meeting of the Nebraska Nurses Association at the YWCA, also revealed that some of the newest developments in the use of radioactive isotopes are taking place at the University of Nebraska College of Medicine in Omaha.

Following Mr. Moore's talk, Frieda Roerden of the State Health Department, and Pauline Freshling, industrial nurse, reported on the biennial nursing convention last month in Atlantic City, N. J.

Judy Expects Baby

By LOUELLA PARSONS
HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Judy Garland is going to have a baby. She called her Thursday to say that her personal physician, Dr. Mark Rabwin, had just told her that she and her husband, Sid Luft, can expect the arrival next spring.

Judy, whose comeback from unhappiness and the edge of failure, was the sensation of the theatrical year, had planned to remake a picture for Luft, but now, of course, all her plans are in abeyance until the baby arrives.

Judy has a daughter, Liza, now 5 years old, by her previous marriage to Vincent Minelli.

Eisenhowers See Their Son Leave For War

DENVER (AP)—Gen. and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower bade a restrained farewell to their soldier son, John, Thursday as he left to fight in Korea.

Mrs. Eisenhower choked back a tear as she embraced her 29-year-old son and sent him off to war. The general, Republican presidential nominee, also controlled his emotions as he paced back and forth before going up the stairs to the plane with his son for their final word together.

The Eisenhowers stood at the foot of the stairs for several minutes as the mother obviously worked to keep from breaking into tears.

As the plane's departure was delayed, she walked over to the shade of a building and stood biting her lips while she waited for the take-off.

Only once did she turn her head briefly from the group surrounding the party. She recovered quickly, then stepped back again between the general and Mrs. John S. Doud, her mother.

Yanks Throw Back Commie Thrust In Rain

SEOUL (Friday) (AP)—Allied troops battling through drenching rains hurled back a tank-supported Communist attack against Old Baldy hill early Thursday in Western Korea.

The fight raged for almost six hours as the Reds mounted a powerful assault to retake the strategic peak west of Chorwon.

They lost it five weeks ago. Fighting has swirled for weeks around its bare slopes.

A beefed-up Communist battalion of more than 700 men attacked after Red guns laid down an intense artillery and mortar barrage.

The weather cut down Allied air strikes to almost the minimum. Weather reconnaissance planes roamed far to the north but most of the war planes that went out were aimed at the battlefield.

Basin Development Criticism 'Unfair' Declares Peterson

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska has charged "unfair and unfounded criticism" has come from critics of Missouri Basin development.

Peterson made the accusation at a meeting of the Missouri Basin Inter-Agency of which he is a member.

The Nebraska governor asked Bureau of Reclamation officials if any money had been spent on construction of the Missouri-South project of north-central North Dakota before investigators showed the land the million-acre area was unsuitable for irrigation.

Regional Director K. F. Vernon of the Bureau replied the only money spent had been for study. Vernon said glacial till close to the surface of the North Dakota area does not permit free draining necessary in irrigation. A similar situation exists on some of the lands in the Oahe unit, located in South Dakota's James River valley.

Officer Injured When Motorcycle Hits Hole, Upsets

A Lincoln motorcycle officer, Robert Rice, 29, of 1548 So. 24th, was badly skinned Thursday when his vehicle hit a chuck-hole and slid him along a gravel road.

He was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for skinned ankle, body, legs, arms and hands, and taken home.

Capt. C. C. Hurd said Rice was driving about 30 m.p.h. on Vine between Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh en route to an accident at the time.

The motorcycle ended up 100 feet from the chuck hole. After being thrown, Rice picked up the vehicle and rode it back to Police Headquarters before being taken to the hospital.

'Ballot Battle' Group Doesn't 'Name' Demo

Who would make the strongest Democratic nominee for President?

At the fourth and last session of the "Battle of the Ballots" at the Student Union Thursday, forty persons in attendance let the issue stand.

Carl J. Schneider, assistant professor of political science, Mrs. Arthur L. Smith, treasurer of the Kefauver-for-President group in Lancaster County, and Charles Thone, delegate to the Republican national convention served on the panel discussion.

Mark Van Voorhis served as moderator. The series was sponsored by the University YWCA and YMCA.

Man Believed Drowned A Year Ago Is Located At Great Bend

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP)—The mysterious disappearance of Jim Shafer, 60, formerly of Falls City and Barada, Neb., who had been missing for nearly a year and a half and was believed drowned, has been cleared up, Sheriff Vern Atkins reported.

Shafer is living at Great Bend, Kan., where he is known as Lee Ashton.

The sheriff said Shafer's identity was discovered in the course of the investigation of a fire which destroyed his trailer home near Great Bend.

Sheriff Joe D. Green of Great Bend said that when questioned about the fire Shafer admitted his identity. Green sent a photograph and fingerprints to Sheriff Atkins, who confirmed the identification.

On Dec. 6, 1949, Charles Shafer received a note from his brother, Jim, saying the latter was going on a long journey. The next day Jim's car was discovered abandoned at the east end of the Rulo bridge across the Missouri River. A pair of shoes was found beside the car. There were a half dozen tracks seeming to lead to the river.

Officers quoted Jim Shafer as saying he just wanted to drop out of sight and prepared the

City Water Board Recommends Hiring Of Consulting Engineers

Study Cost Estimated At $7,500

The city Advisory Water Board has adopted a recommendation calling for the hiring of consulting engineers at a cost of $7,500 to submit preliminary studies on Lincoln's water needs.

The recommendation will go to the City Council, calling for the services of Black and Veatch, Kansas City, Mo. The firm has done considerable work for the city in the past and just recently declared it essential that an additional water supply line be constructed to the city from Ashland.

Another Board meeting has been scheduled for next Thursday, said Chairman Byron Dunn, at which time the group will go to Ashland to familiarize itself with the supply system. Information as to the city's total possible supply, he said, is being sought.

Other problems for the board to consider as outlined by City Engineer D. L. Erickson are where an additional line from Ashland would be placed and whether additional reservoir capacity should be supplied in the city to take care of the immediate problem.

Dunn pointed out that the last Water Board, appointed in 1929, investigated various possible sources of supply and recommended Ashland. The present Board, he said, will go over those recommendations and data on all city wells which will be furnished by Erickson.

The Board will also study submission of a charter amendment allowing the city to issue revenue bonds without submitting the proposal to a vote of the people.

Mayor Victor E. Anderson advised the Board that there is $400,000 now available for water department improvements. Revenue bonds, he said, would be required to supplement that figure.

At its initial organizational meeting, the group elected William I. Aitken vice-chairman and Ernest L. Smith secretary. Other Board members are Dunn, Ted Sick and Dean O. J. Ferguson.

Cupid Conquers All; Lincoln Sailor Is Wed To St. Louisian—She's A Marine

"He says he loves me in spite of the fact that I'm a Marine."

That was the comment of Sgt. Juanita M. Williams of St. Louis as she applied for a marriage license to Yeoman 3/C Walter L. Johnston of Lincoln.

Sgt. Williams and Johnston were married Wednesday night by Rev. Clarence Smith. The couple, who plan to disprove popular conceptions about disagreement between the Navy and Marines, met while they were attending naval justice school at Newport, R. I. Sgt. Johnston (nee Williams) enlisted in the Marines on May 16, 1951, and is now stationed at Cherry Point, N. C., working in the intelligence service. After the honeymoon, Yeo. 3/C Johnston, in service since 1950, will return to Hawaii, Japan, where he does legal work. He is 24, she is 20.

Sgt. Johnston plans to leave the service at the end of her present enlistment, but he is undecided.

State Budget Planning Near

Budget making for funds to be expended by the state during the two years starting next July 1 will start being prepared within 30 days, Paul Wagner, newly appointed budget director, said.

Meanwhile, Wagner, who took over the budget job June 1, plans to visit state institutions to study their operations firsthand.

He is approaching the budget task with a definite "hold the line" attitude, Wagner explained.

There are several factors weighing in favor of this. Prices are holding about level; the cost of living index appears on an even keel, while the wholesale index is down.

The farm commodity index also is down.

Hearings on requests of the various departments will be held in the early fall.

The operating budget for the current biennium was $173,369,571.

The general fund budget, out of which most ordinary running expenses of the state government are paid, was $58,081,519.

Judge Simmons Lands In Manila

MANILA (P)—Chief Justice Robert G. Simmons of the Nebraska Supreme Court arrived by air Thursday on a tour of southwest Asia. He was accompanied by Mrs. Simmons.

Justice Simmons said before he left Nebraska he will deliver some formal lectures but he plans chiefly to visit with lawyers and judges about the United States judicial system and constitution.

He said although the invitation to make the trip came through the state department, he is going "as a private citizen, free to express my views, bearing in mind only my responsibilities as an American citizen."

Scottsbluff Elks Team Wins Eighth

NEW YORK (P)—The Scottsbluff, Neb., Elks lodge placed eighth in the annual ritualistic competition at the 88th convention of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

The DeKalb, Ill., Elks lodge team won top place in the ritualistic contest with 96,814 points of a possible 100. The Nebraska team scored 95,674 points.

The new grand exalted ruler, Sam Stern of Fargo, N.D., and his predecessor, Howard R. Davis of Williamsport, Pa., received standing ovations during the convention's closing session Thursday.

Change In Code Summary Prepared

Distribution of a summary of the six proposed amendments to the state Constitution which go on the November election ballot has been started by the state Legislative Council.

Copies of the summary go to members of the Legislature, officials, and statewide organizations which are interested in the subject matter of the various proposals.

The proposals are as follows:

1. To provide for an elected six-member state Board of Education which would appoint a commissioner of education, who would replace the present elective state superintendent.

2. To reduce the number of times that proposed constitutional amendments should be published from four to three.

3. To authorize the Legislature to provide a different method of taxing motor vehicles.

4. To permit compensation of all members of a court, board, or commission to be increased or lowered at the beginning of a full term of any member of the court, board, or commission.

5. To increase the pay of legislators from $872.09 per year to $1,250 per year.

6. To provide that a constitutional convention, if called, should consist of not more than 100 members, with the time, number of delegates and their manner of election to be determined by the Legislature.

Five Are Named To State Traffic, Safety Committee

Five Nebraskans have been named to the State Traffic and Safety committee for the Inter-Industry Highway Safety committee and the Nebraska New Car Dealers Association, by the chairman, Elsworth F. DuTeau of Lincoln.

DuTeau, in announcing the committee members to guide the traffic safety program for the next year, indicated that the group may attempt a move to strengthen the requirements of individuals receiving driver licenses for motor vehicles in Nebraska.

He charged Nebraska laws with being "very lax" in issuing licenses.

Forsaking Solid Earth

There have been two very impressive stories in the news columns in the last seven days. One heralded a western crossing of the Atlantic by the new United States luxury liner which for the first time brought to this nation the mythical blue ribbon—emblem of speed supremacy along the world's commercial sea lanes.

The good ship, "The United States," made it look ridiculously easy. Without seeming effort, the huge liner clipped nine hours and 36 minutes from the record established 14 years ago by the Queen Mary. Earlier in July, America's latest sea achievement, a 53,000-ton beauty, had made the eastern trip across the Atlantic in ten hours less time than the previous existing record. Time and again we say to ourselves—some of us exclaiming and some of us puzzled and possibly a trifle dismayed—that distance has lost all of its meaning in this new glistening world of ours.

And almost simultaneously there were two sky sagas registered—one rejected by the Civil Aeronautics Administration—the other rating a nod of approval from the Navy Department. The claim that a plane in aircraft flight actually had recorded a speed of 2,280 miles an hour was rejected. The plane, a C-46 transport, was reputed to have covered 152 flying miles at the breathtaking speed of 2,280 miles per hour. The Civil Aeronautics Administration had words for it. "No dice," it declared. It simply can't be done. Obviously somewhere in the skies there is a ceiling beyond which man cannot venture in his eager efforts to move through space faster than any human has heretofore or to soar into the thin stratosphere where nature herself has ruled for untold centuries in mystery. But at the same time the United States Navy credited one of its planes, a D-558-2 Skyrocket, with having flown at a speed 1,238 miles an hour and at an altitude of 79,494 feet above the surface of the earth—incidentally both records.

By no means is the race over the drafting boards finished. Tomorrow and ten years from now, skilled technicians will be busy at it—to what end it is not clear except that such is the curiosity of man in unlocking all the secrets of his world.

Perhaps we are missing the significance of what has been happening. Shall we say that at a not-too-distant date, one of man's simplest habits will be to commute between his office in New York City and his home in southern, sunny California. He will pile up his gold in the world's greatest metropolis, leave his office at an early closing hour, take one glance at the Atlantic, and before sundown be on the sands of the California beach, clad in trunks, restore his vigor in its health-giving, fun-loving atmosphere. Or, by way of variety, he may decide that he could use a night on the sidewalks of Paris, so, closing his desk an hour earlier, he will board a plane and before he can decide what to order for dinner, he will be at his destination.

If you're asking us, it sounds gruesome! We are not that much in a hurry. But the old limitations which men faced are gone and in the field of transportation, solid earth becomes of less and less consequence. It has been the privilege of a single generation to see travel revolutionized. And the end is not in sight.

Maybe Alaska Needs A Sarong

Normally the people of the territory of Alaska vote Democratic; those of Hawaii, Republican.

What could be more natural, then, than the platform adopted by the Republican National Convention in Chicago last week should carry a plain, direct, unequivocal pledge of statehood for Hawaii, and an indefinite promise of statehood some time in the distant future for Alaska? Hawaii's staunch Republicanism means two more Republican seats in the United States Senate. Alaska's traditional loyalty to the Democratic party would even up the scales, but balancing the books was not what the platform builders had in mind.

It is curious that in the instance of bitterly fought legislative battles, the mere whim of statehood recognition in these next five to ten years, if Hawaii is admitted, would decide for a nation of more than 150 million people. Those two votes of newly admitted Hawaii could be the difference between approval or rejection of matters of intense interest to the people of sovereign states which have been a part of the commonwealth of states for half a century or more.

The argument for Alaskan statehood applies with equal strength to Hawaii. And the argument for Hawaiian statehood can be no stronger than the plea for recognition of Alaska. They should be admitted to the Union side by side—not because of previous political tradition—but because they are a very substantial part of American security in the future, key outposts in the scheme of things in the Pacific and the Orient. To admit one and deny the other does not make sense. But what has justice, the facts, or anything else to do with statehood plans when politicians are figuring how to strengthen their fences?

Do We Get An Auditorium?

We are inclined to the opinion that the more the Lincoln City Council studies its current auditorium program, the more confused it will become.

What is needed is not study—marking time—or procrastination—but decision. It has been the council's inability to make up its own mind that has snarled up Lincoln's plans for an auditorium.

The council now finds itself in this position. It lacked an approximate half million dollars in order to carry out the original plans for an auditorium sports arena on the basis of increased material and labor costs. It asked for an additional $750,000 which the voters emphatically refused. Undoubtedly the uncertainty at the City Hall over what to do had a very considerable effect upon the outcome of that last bond election. There had been too much indecision evidenced to create confidence on the part of the voter.

There is an approximate 2½ million dollars available for the auditorium and for the facilities planned in conjunction with it. Even at the expense of eliminating some of these features, we are inclined to believe that the majority of the people of Lincoln would be gratified, if the council finds that it has the legal authority to do so, to cut enough from the original design to permit early construction steps.

It will take months to redesign an auditorium and sports arena—possibly additional months for fresh discussion and final action of approval. And then, and only then will it be possible to go ahead with actual building.

That may be smart, but we doubt it. It isn't exactly a happy choice that faces the City Council, but if it expects to get anything done, it will have to make up its mind.

State Board Of Education

This is to acknowledge receipt of a pamphlet setting forth the legislative proposal for a constitutional amendment to create a state board of education.

Under the provisions of the proposal, the present State Department of Education would be replaced with a State Board of Education, meeting periodically to formulate policies relating to the general education program of the state. It would be authorized to select a superintendent of Nebraska schools to be known as the Commissioner of Education. He, in turn with his staff, would carry out the policies formulated by the state board itself within the framework of Nebraska school laws.

In support of the proposed amendment, it is

The Proverbial View

Most releases from information offices sent to newspapers fall into the category of dull reading, not worth the time of editors and certainly not worth the space of valuable newsprint. But the India Information Service, in an attempt to prove that the people of the United States and India are close to each other in one respect, at least, has turned out an interesting project which may be worth passing on.

Pointing to proverbs and sayings which, the release says, reveal "the mind of a people," the item goes on to demonstrate a similarity in outlook on life between the two peoples. For instance, take the American saying, "The grass is always greener in the other fellow's yard." The Indian version is "The bird wishes it were a cloud, the cloud wishes it were a bird."

There are other examples: Indian version: "We come nearest to the great when we are great in humility."

U.S. version: "The meek shall inherit the earth."

Indian version: "Keeping away from the mire is better than washing it off."

U.S. version: "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

Indian version: "As the seed, so the sprout."

U.S. version: "Big trees from little acorns grow."

Indian version: "The tree that is cut down grows again; the moon that waxes waxes again after a time. Thus do wise men reflect, and though distressed, are not overwhelmed."

U.S. version: "This too shall pass."

Indian version: "In silence there is no quarrel."

U.S. version: "Silence is golden."

But not all is similar, it appears. An example of philosophical disagreement occurs in these two old proverbs:

Indian version: "Do not linger to gather flowers, but walk on, for flowers will keep themselves blooming all your way."

U.S. version: "Gather ye rosebuds while ye may."

DREW PEARSON

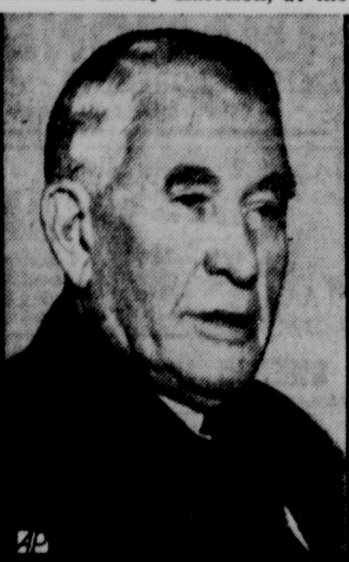

Alben Barkley's Age His Chief Handicap

(Editors Note: The Democratic convention opening next week will witness a wide-open race between half a dozen candidates. Drew Pearson diagnoses them in a series of columns today's being on Vice President Barkley.)

WASHINGTON—Before Vice President Barkley became an active candidate for President, his family discussed the matter and came up with varying opinions. One daughter, Mrs. Douglas MacArthur, whose husband is a nephew of the General, was emphatically opposed to having her father run. She feared it might shorten his life.

The other daughter, Mrs. Max Truitt, wanted her father to run, while the new Mrs. Barkley was also in favor of the Veepe's throwing his hat in the ring.

The candidate in question is 74 years old. And though Gen. Eisenhower at the age of 61 is the oldest Republican ever nominated, and though the oldest president ever elected, William Henry Harrison, at the age of 68, died two months after taking office, it's an indisputable fact that the vice president is one of the most vigorous men in Washington.

It is also an indisputable fact that, based upon faithful service to his party, Alben Barkley deserves reward. For years in the Senate, Barkley watched his friends get promoted to the Supreme Court or to the Cabinet while he patiently continued the thankless job of pushing the administration's bills through Congress.

When Jimmie Byrnes, then a senator, wanted appointment to the Supreme Court, Barkley went down to the White House to urge Jimmie for the job, even though he secretly coveted the place for himself. And as various colleagues—Hugo Black, Schwelbich of Washington, Duffy of Wisconsin, Minton of Indiana, even a Republican, Burton of Ohio—were promoted to the courts or the Cabinet, Barkley whimsically complained.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Wisconsin—'Dark And Bloody Battleground'

MADISON, Wis.—What has happened in the Democratic party here in Wisconsin typifies the troubles the party seems bound to experience on the national scale at the end of 20 years in power. Organization and discipline are cast aside as personal rivalries come to the surface.

Sen. Joseph McCarthy is up for re-election in November. In one term in the Senate he has made himself the most intensely controversial figure in that body. By many, including important elements of the press, he is denounced as a demagogue spreading fear and suspicion, his reckless charges of Communism largely unfounded. To many others he is a hero and crusader. And for cynical Republicans he is the only last, a handy stick to beat the Democratic dog.

In recent years a younger generation of Democrats has put a considerable organizing effort into a party that never amounted to much in what was, prior to 1932, a solidly Republican state. A Democratic organizing committee under the leadership of James E. Doyle, Madison attorney, did the kind of grass-roots work that had previously been neglected.

For these younger Democrats, McCarthy was a prime target. Two months ago they announced they had agreed to back one man, Henry Reuss, of Milwaukee, in the Democratic primary in September. They gave out with a chorus of "Reuss."

Reuss, who served with the Office of Price Administration in Washington and the Economic Cooperation Administration in Paris, fell somewhat short of the ideal candidate to take on McCarthy. He lacked experience in the rough and tumble of politics. But he was earnest and hard-working and he had got into the field first.

All was serene until just before the deadline for filing in the primary. Then, without prior notice, one of the leaders who had joined in the harmony chorus, Thomas E. Fairchild, jumped into the race. Fairchild, bearer of a name long distinguished in Republican affairs in the state, was United States attorney for western Wisconsin.

The contest between Fairchild and Reuss meant that much of the Democrats' time and money will go into this intra-party struggle. While somewhat better known, Fairchild also has handicaps, one of them being the absence of a war record. McCarthy exploits to the fullest his service in the U.S. Marine Corps.

But there is an even more im-

"I have lost so many senators to the courts that I feel lost myself."

Probably Roosevelt would have rewarded Barkley had it not been for a bitter speech he made attacking the President for vetoing the 1944 tax bill.

With the war at its peak, Roosevelt had asked for a record tax bill. Congress gave him a watered-down version instead, and Roosevelt vetoed it. Whereupon the Kentucky mountaineer that lurks in Alben Barkley's soul flared to the surface in a vitriolic denunciation of FDR, the man whose program he was supposed to uphold.

Naturally, this played right into Republican hands. It also cooled relations between Barkley and FDR, perhaps prevented Barkley from becoming vice president in 1944. Instead, Harry Truman became vice president, and American history became different.

Roosevelt had secured Barkley's appointment as majority leader after a battle with Sen. Pat Harrison of Mississippi—a battle between the southern conservative forces within the party and the new deal. Barkley, a progressive, won out by a scant single vote. That vote was cast by Sen. Dieterich of Illinois, who switched from Harrison to Barkley after FDR pressured Mayor Ed Kelly of Chicago, chief controller of Dieterich's re-election.

Having secured Barkley's election as majority leader, and having campaigned the length of Kentucky when Barkley faced a tough re-election fight from Happy Chandler, FDR was miffed. And that flareup of Kentucky temper over taxes probably affected U. S. history more than any other Senate speech in half a decade.

As the years have passed, Alben has become mellowed. A few years ago his tongue was one of the most caustic in the Senate. Once he referred to his good friend Sen. Tom Connally as "that boob senator from Texas" and once when Tydings of Maryland was demanding a processing tax on shoddy (wool), Barkley remarked: "The senator ought to know something about shoddy, since that is something on which he is an expert."

There are some weak spots in Barkley's political armor which the Republicans would be sure to aim at if he got the nomination. One is the fact that his son worked for the Garsons, who with Congressman Andy May of Kentucky were convicted of defrauding the government on war contracts. Barkley's son was not involved. However, the Garsons unquestionably hired young Barkley to help get the inside track around Washington, and this would be played up by GOP campaigners in connection with the corruption issue.

portant factor that the Democrats do talk about officially. Wisconsin has an open primary, which means that when the voter goes into the polling booth on primary day, he takes his pick of either the Democratic or Republican ballot. In many states, of course, if you are registered in one party you must vote in that primary.

With no contest in the Democratic race, up to a hundred thousand Democrats were expected to go into the Republican primary to vote against McCarthy. The senator has a Republican opponent in Leonard Schmitt of Merrill, who promises to put on a hard campaign. Like McCarthy, he is a slugger and he is not vulnerable to the charge of Communism. He is a Roman Catholic of German origin who began life as a barger and worked his way through the University of Wisconsin Law School.

Starting his campaign, Schmitt in a recent speech charged McCarthy with voting against labor and the farmer. He accused McCarthy of voting "only twice in 13 bills in support of the Rural Electrification Administration."

The REA Co-Ops are politically powerful in Wisconsin. So is organized labor in the industrial cities in the eastern part of the state. These blocs, if they voted together, might be decisive.

Privately McCarthy has told friends he expects a hard fight both in the primary and in the November election. But he will have the full support of the Republican organization. And he can be certain of unlimited campaign funds coming both from Milwaukee businessmen and industrialists who have always supported him and from wealthy contributors outside the state who are said to have pledged him unlimited help.

Wisconsin will be a dark and bloody battleground. That much is for certain. It is doubtful that the Democrats can muster very much strength for the short but intensive fall campaign if they go through their own Kilkenny fight before September.

But then the Republican party could hardly be described as a precise and unified organ for political action. Gen. Eisenhower's victory over Sen. Taft has left a deep undercurrent of resentment in Wisconsin. As for McCarthy who in the past has spoken contemptuously of Eisenhower as a dupe of his superiors, one of his first acts was to be photographed with the general, who is also the presidential nominee of his party.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

From The Pie-ing Fran Into The Friar

By MONA B. PARKER
Dubious high honors, without question, for the worst pun of the week go to Oshkosh's Garden County News, "Sass & Bull." Greenlee was considering the fact that Fran Quigley makes pies for her Chappell coffee shop, and palatable pastries they are, too. If a monk came in to eat some of said homemade pies, they speculated, would it be a case of "going from the pie-ing Fran into the friar."

Out in northeast Nebraska, the citizens are strictly up-to-date in law enforcement and the tracking down of violators. A trio of wily Redskins had given Melvin Huey of Plainview a check that bounced.

higher than a teepee, in payment for a used car. A posse of two, mounting their trusty horsepower, took off in the Huey plane and shortly spotted the car near Crofton. Here they landed, enlisted the aid of local officers and apprehended the three.

The Western Nebraska Observer has a gastronomic note to add, a little cynical, somewhat resigned, certainly less than appetizing. The eternal "they" are talking about making peanut-butter with chocolate, orange and maple flavors. Being a sometime and lukewarm peanut-butter consumer, our only comment is a resounding "ugh!" "They might as well," sighed The Observer, "They make chocolate bars now that are peanut-butter flavored." However, The Observer would be sorry to see the bread-spread follow in the downward footsteps of cheese, whose makers have produced their product with a flavor of bacon, olives—anything but cheese. In fact, "Many people don't know what it is to eat a good piece of cheese that has a mellowness from proper aging and a flavor that is unmistakable."

It used to be that trains were equipped with cowcatchers for the very purpose their name indicates. Any through choo-choo in Norfolk one day last week would have needed equipment frontage of a different sort. A ton and a half of hay hauled by F. L. Bach fell between two lines of tracks there, requiring several hours of removal.

There are those among us who feel that politics frequently reach barnyard level. Concession may be that either makes for strange bedfellows. At the H. P. Jensen farm along the river south of Scotia, two malards moved in with the chickens, even occupying the chicken house, during the winter. This spring they took wing—but only to the river where they are seen from time to time in the same neighborhood.

One Gering youngster will probably tell his grandchildren some day about a private performance he once enjoyed, the counterpart of which thousands of radio, stage, movie and TV audiences have applauded appreciatively. Mrs. Delmer Reeder and young son were enroute to California on the same plane carrying Edgar Bergen to the west coast. Becoming interested in the wee Geringite, the famous ventriloquist put on a "Charlie Mc-Carthy" show for him, his mother, and the other passengers aboard.

Arch Jarrell explains economics among the small fry of Grand Island: (1) First small fry lends second small fry several comic books; (2) Second small fry conducts rummage sale; (3) Second small fry sells back comic books to first small fry for two cents; (4) First small fry is very happy because, as she explains, if she had bought them again new, they would have cost a dime each.

The Hub deliberated over the possibility that the tiny lady bug may be assisting in eradication, or at least effective control, of the cankerworm. Trees in Harmon Park have been covered each evening by swarms of the bright beetles, too wise to get into the sticky bands applied by caretakers.

M. C. Howe explained one little fire and how it might have grown, and the circumstances were such as might logically occur in any home. The precaution may be worth remembering.

Mrs. Elmer Nelson came home one evening and laid her purse on a table near the fish bowl. Next morning as the sun came up, it focused through the fish bowl which acted as a magnifying glass, and soon the purse was smoldering.

Nebraska Traffic Is Increasing

Inadequate Highways Worry State Engineer

By ARCH DONOVAN
(Star Staff Writer)

Mounting traffic in Nebraska had State Engineer Harold Aitken trying to figure how he could keep some of the inadequate highway safely usable when the traffic peak is reached in August.

Counts on traffic volume during June showed a seven per cent increase over the same month a year ago and approximately the same as the peak period in 1950. It increased 11 per cent over May.

Travel in the state was 1,000,000 a mile greater per day than it was two years ago and over 500,000 miles per day greater than last year.

Heaviest traffic at the 15 places where the state maintains automatic counters was on U.S. 77 and 275 north of Fremont with 4,598 daily, an increase of nine per cent over the same month last year.

Heaviest Ever

Counts shown on U.S. 30 and U.S. 6 showed them running about the same with 4,440 vehicles per day on No. 30 west of Elm Creek and 4,424 on No. 6 north of Gretna. No. 6 picks up considerable increased traffic at Lincoln from highways to the east and south which is westbound.

Only U. S. 26 east of Scottsbluff showed a slight decrease, county roads as well as main highways reflecting increased traffic. U. S. 73-75 south of Union showed the greatest increase on main routes, the 10 per cent increase bringing the number of vehicles up to 3,112 daily.

Capt. Dan Casey of the State Safety Patrol says that north and south traffic on both U. S. 77 and 275 of Lincoln and U. S. 81 is the heaviest experienced in any year. Vehicles en route to Denver on Kansas highways have been coming north on No. 77 and going west on No. 6 because of the shorter distance and due to floods in Kansas a larger amount of westbound traffic has been coming north on No. 81 and going west on No. 6.

U. S. No. 2 at Broken Bow showed the greatest increase of any counted highway with 22 per cent. Greatest increase for the year to date was shown on U. S. 73-75 with 9 per cent.

4-H Dairy Awards Go To 33 State Youths

Seven Given $100 Prizes In Projects

Thirty-three Nebraska 4-H dairy club members have received a total of $2,000 to go toward the purchase of dairy calf projects. The award was made by the Roberts Dairy Company of Omaha.

In order to be eligible for the award, the club members must have carried a dairy project. Before receiving the money, all calves purchased were inspected by extension dairy specialists to see that they measured up to the standards of the breed.

Winners of $100 awards were:

Richard Hendrix, Lincoln
Kenneth Baumgart, Beatrice
Carol Podlask, Lindsay
Tom Knoke, Wahoo
Marvin Ocken, York
Gerald Holscher, Unadilla
Charles Ramsey, Dawson.

Fifty dollar awards were presented to:

The Lincoln youth, 16-year-old Richard Hendrix, has been active in 4-H work for the past five years. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Hendrix, 5520 Vine.

Young Hendrix, president of the Sunshine Dairy Club of Lincoln, was recognized for his showmanship of his registered Guernsey heifer, judging merits, ribbons he has won and records he has kept.

His $50 award has been applied toward the purchase of another dairy calf.

Young Hendrix has been a member of 4-H gardening and electricians clubs before joining the Sunshine Dairy Club, led by Elton Lux. Last November, he was a representative from here to the National 4-H Congress with a team demonstration. He is a junior at Northeast High School.

Mutual May Invest Up To 35% Surplus In United Judge Says

OMAHA (AP)—A District Court judge's ruling held that the Mutual Benefit and Accident Association can invest up to 35 percent of its surplus, for investment purposes, in stock of the United Benefit Life Insurance Company.

The decision by Judge Jackson B. Chase denied a declaratory judgment, asked by Mutual, which would have allowed Mutual to use 50 percent of its surplus to acquire United stock.

While approving Mutual's acquisition of some of United's stock, for investment purposes, the judge noted that Mutual does not have authority to engage in the stock life insurance business such as is engaged in by United, and does not have legal authority to acquire stock in any such company for the purpose of indirectly engaging in such business.

Operate On Parallel

The case involved around 25 million dollars. Both companies have home offices in Omaha.

Mutual Benefit founded United Benefit in 1925. From then until 1949 the two firms operated on a parallel basis, with the same staff and directors. Then the interlocking directorate was dissolved.

In 1950 Mutual Benefit proposed to buy the stock of United Benefit for $23,500,000 and inaugurated the court suit to get a ruling on the legality. A group of Mutual policyholders entered the case as intervenors.

On the basis of Judge Chase's ruling, an attorney for Mutual said the company will buy as much of United stock as the 35 percent limit will allow. A Mutual spokesman estimated this would be 65 percent of United's stock.

The court held that $255 per share of United stock as of June 15, 1952, a fair and reasonable price.

New Group Is Organized To Study Roads

BLAIR, Neb. (AP)—A new seven-member committee has been set up to study Nebraska's road problems and bring back a report. The committee was set up at Kearney at another in a series of meetings which have brought together representatives of various highway associations in the state, the petroleum industry, trucking and farm interests.

The meeting, attended by 22 persons, was called by L. L. Snyder of Blair, president of the Nebraska Highway 30 Association.

"We are trying to work out some system that the people will like and that can be adopted at the next session of the legislature," said Snyder. "That's our aim."

Named to the committee were Snyder, Dr. Eric G. Defflon of Chadron, Tal Conrad of Sargent, W. R. Schafer of Omaha, and representatives still to be named of the State Highway Department, Better Nebraska Association and the Highway Users Conference. Charles A. Marshall was recommended as representative both of the Highway Users group and Farm Bureau Federation.

Omaha Pedestrian Dies Of Injuries

OMAHA (AP)—A man injured in a traffic accident July 3 died Thursday afternoon in an Omaha hospital.

He was Thor Thorsen, also known as Henry Thor, 69, of Omaha.

Acting County Coroner George Sullivan said an autopsy will be performed Friday to confirm the cause of death.

Thorsen suffered two broken legs and a head injury when struck by a car in downtown Omaha. His condition had been listed as serious since then.

There's Fun To Be Had In Lincoln

NOT EVEN THE greatest stretch of the imagination could make Lincoln a summer resort—no mountains, no lakes, no oceans, no beaches—But Lincoln never is handicapped in anyway as far as activity is concerned, for there always are guests, and to the guests go the credit for Lincoln's summer fun.

TAKE THE PRESNELLS—Mr. and Mrs. Glenn—of Ironton, O., for instance—Mr. and Mrs. Presnell arrived in Lincoln a day or two ago completely without fanfare, but in an instant their courtesy book was filled up—Mr. and Mrs. Presnell are, as we told you before, the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Russell, and complimenting Mrs. Presnell Mrs. Russell was a luncheon hostess on Thursday when she entertained at the Lincoln Country club. Following luncheon the guest eightsome went to the home of Mrs. Russell for an afternoon of cards.

HONORING MR. AND MRS. PRESNELL on Thursday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Spangler who were dinner host and hostess at their home.

And this evening Mr. and Mrs. Russell will preside informally at dinner as a courtesy to the visitors who leave on Saturday to return home.

THEN WE learned that Mrs. Fred Decker (Dorothy Herman) of Van Nuys, Calif., is in town, the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Turner. Mrs. Decker, a former Lincoln resident and a Delta Gamma at Nebraska, stopped off en route to her home from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., where she attended the Delta Gamma convention as a delegate from the San Fernando valley alumnae club.

Mrs. Decker leaves on Sunday to return to her home, but in the meantime there is a courtesy for her—the coffee for which Mrs. Duncan Sowles will be hostess at 10:30 o'clock this morning, and to which she has invited thirty former college friends of the honoree.

INCIDENTALLY—Mrs. Sowles and Mrs. Decker are half of a foursome that was known on the Nebraska campus as The Four Horsemen—a title bestowed upon them by a member of the faculty because Mrs. Sowles, Mrs. Decker (then Ruth DeKlotz) and Dorothy Herman—Mrs. Elmer Dohrmann (Betty Christiansen) of Akron, O., and Mrs. Melvin Wilkins (Mary Louise Steen) of Syracuse always were together. They had been through high school together, went down on the campus at the same time, pledged Delta Gamma at the same time, and registered for the same classes.

SPEAKING OF guests—and courtesies—Hear that Mrs. Oak B. Smith of Kansas City is spending the week in Lincoln, the guest of her mother, Mrs. Luella Andrews. Complimenting her daughter, Mrs. Andrews entertained at a family dinner on Thursday evening at the Lincoln Country club. Dinner places were arranged for ten.

ALSO IN TOWN this week is Herbert Post of Evanston, Ill., who is spending a few days as the house guest of his aunt, Mrs. John Dorgan.

THERE ARE guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Black, too—Mr. Black's sister-in-law, Mrs. Thad Black, and her two sons, Craig and Alex, of Ft. Mason, Calif. (where Lieut. Col. Black is stationed); his mother, Mrs. John W. Black, and another sister-in-law, Mrs. Glenwood Black, both of Emerson, arrived on Thursday for a brief stay in Lincoln.

BACK HOME are Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. White and their son, Charles White, who returned Wednesday evening from Madison, Wis., where, on Tuesday afternoon, they attended the wedding of Miss Susan Wells Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Anderson, and John Talbot Jr. of Washington, D. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Talbot of Williamstown, Mass. The ceremony was solemnized at the University Presbyterian church at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

THE MENTION of a wedding reminds us that Miss Virginia Hein is to be a bride on Sunday afternoon, July 20, when she marries James Frederic Nissen. For her attendants Miss Hein has chosen Miss Nancy Humphrey of Wisner; Miss Betty Coad of Omaha, and Miss Caroline Rothenberger of Beatrice, all Kappa Kappa Gamma sisters of the bride.

Mr. Nissen will have as his best man, Richard Lund of Wayne, and the ushers will include Karl Otte, Wayne; Bob Sieck, Council Bluffs, Ia.; Bob Nichols of Central City, and Bob Meehan of Lincoln.

ONE OF OUR July brides had a relaxing evening Thursday night—Miss Esther Beynon was hostess to four of her six attendants at dinner at the Lincoln Country club—after which the evening was devoted to bridge at the bride-to-be's home—The two absent members were Miss Jane Traphagen of New York City, who will plane in a day or two before the wedding—and Mrs. Rex Selbe of Evanston, Ill., who also will be arriving just ahead of the wedding.

MUST ADD another post script on brides-to-be—Just this moment found out that Miss Ting Lilly and Miss Mitzie Moyle are to be luncheon hostesses at the Lincoln Country club next Saturday when they honor Miss Joan Yeager of Omaha, KKG at Nebraska, whose marriage to Howard Herbst will be an event of Saturday, August 9. Twelve guests have been invited for the luncheon and a bathroom shower for the bride-elect.

When Good Friends Get Together

Short on time and long on friends is the predicament in which Mrs. Fred Decker of Van Nuys, Cal., currently finds herself—Mrs. Decker, the former Dorothy Herman of Lincoln, and a Delta Gamma at the University of Nebraska is stopping in Lincoln but briefly en route home from the Delta Gamma convention—Thursday evening we found her at the Tee Pee where she had joined some members of the family.

In the picture, left to right, are Mrs. Decker's niece, Miss Jo Jen Loder, Mrs. Decker, and her two sisters-in-law, Mrs. H. P. Turner (whose house guest she is), and Mrs. A. E. Loder.

A Bride And Two Brides-To-Be

MRS. RUSSELL L. SCOTT

At a 9 o'clock ceremony which took place Saturday morning, July 12, at Sacred Heart church, Miss Theresa Navratil, daughter of Mrs. Anna Serec of Valparaiso, became the bride of Russell L. Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Scott of Lincoln. The lines of the double ring service were read by the Rev. H. B. Hart in the presence of the members of the family and a small group of friends.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Robert Tejral who wore an ankle-length frock of aqua lace and nylon sheer, with matching lace mitts and brimmed hat. Her shoulder corsage was of garnet-toned roses. Robert Tejral served Mr. Scott as best man.

For her wedding, the bride chose a ballerina-length gown of nylon net and lace in the champagne tone. A fitted bodice, closed down the front with rhinestone buttons, covered the decollete bodice, and the skirt flared into fullness. Lace mitts and a wide-brimmed hat completed her costume, and she wore a corsage of roses.

A reception was held at the Hotel Cornhusker following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott will make their home in Lincoln.

MISS BONNIE JEAN MEYER

Mr. and Mrs. Werner A. Meyer of Beaver Crossing announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Bonnie Jean Meyer of Dallas, Tex., formerly of Lincoln, to Paul Vernon Perrin, of Dallas, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Vernon Perrin of Baton Rouge, La.

The wedding date is Sunday August 10, and the ceremony will be solemnized at 7 o'clock in the evening at the Evangelical and Reformed church in Seward.

MISS BARBARA WEILER

Mr. and Mrs. Val Weiler have announced the engagement of their daughter, Barbara, to Edward McQuaid Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McQuaid of Chicago, Ill.

At present stationed with the navy at Memphis, Tenn., Mr. McQuaid is a former student at Loras college, Dubuque, Iowa. Miss Weiler has attended Clarke college at Dubuque.

The wedding will be an event of winter.

Leap Year Dance Set

A Leap Year theme will prevail at the Hillcrest Country Club dance Saturday, July 19. A dinner from 7 o'clock until 9 o'clock will precede dancing to begin at 9:30 o'clock.

The planning committee includes Mr. and Mrs. Leonard

Davey, Dr. and Mrs. James A. Green, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Herrod, Mr. and Mrs. David E. Murray and Mr. and Mrs. Burt Ryan.

Mrs. J. Victor Eitel of Phoenix, Ariz., will be a guest at the committee's table.

Announces Bridal Party

The marriage of Miss Anita Ackerman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Ackerman, to Clyde Henson will be solemnized at 8 o'clock, the evening of Tuesday, August 5, at First Presbyterian Church.

For her matron of honor, Miss Ackerman has chosen Mrs. Lloyd Hinkley, and her bridesmaids will be Mrs. Leon Lehr and Mrs. James Runyan. Miss Patsy Winterhalter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Winterhalter, will be flower girl, and lighting the candles will be Miss Barbara Scheel and Mrs. Gerald Oehring.

Paul Henson will serve his brother as best man, and included among the ushers will be Ed Ackerman, brother of the bride. Ringbearers will be Susan Henson, niece of the bridegroom-elect, and Bruce Baker.

We Hear That

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Walker of Fairbanks, Alaska, were in Lincoln Wednesday visiting Dr. and Mrs. Victor West. From Lincoln the Walkers traveled to Gibbon to visit Mr. Walker's sister, Mrs. Marie Leonard, and then will return to Fairbanks.

Visiting for several weeks in Lincoln are Mr. and Mrs. Bernard F. Marlow and their daughter, Betty Jean, of St. Louis, Mo. They are the house guests of Mr. Marlow's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Marlow.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Meyers of Denton will leave by train Saturday evening for Wilmington, Del., where they will spend two weeks visiting Mr. and Mrs. I. Austin Meyers and family. En route to the east, Mr. and Mrs. Meyers will visit friends in Chicago and in Akron, Ohio.

Trio From California

Arriving in Lincoln Thursday afternoon were Mrs. Thad Black and her two sons, Craig (left) and Alex, who are house guests at the home of Mrs. Black's brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Black. Mrs. Black, the former Ann Anderson of Osceola, Phi Mu at Nebraska, and her sons arrived in Nebraska several days ago for a visit with various members of the family—Their visit in Lincoln will be brief as they plan to return to Ft. Mason, Cal., where Lieut. Colonel Black is stationed, within the next few days.

Choose With Care

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS

To get the most out of color, both your face and your figure must be flattered. But what do you do if you have a creamy complexion (the opposite of the blue-white variety) that calls for warm, advancing colors to spark its beauty—and a figure that is larger than is to be desired? Those same warm, advancing colors will only exaggerate your figure!

That's a color conundrum that can be solved. Let's consider it today.

Color Conundrum

Creamy skins look their loveliest against vibrant yellow-reds, golds and yellow-greens. But these colors advance toward you and therefore make whatever they cover loom larger.

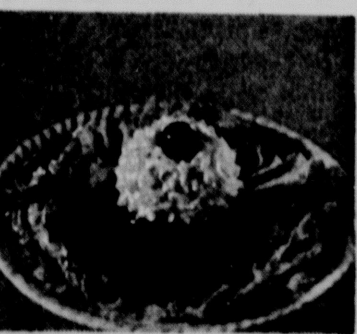

Of course, you could bow to your heavy figure and wear dark clothes with bright touches next to your face and solve your problem. But in so doing, you would miss out on most of the flattery, interest and fashion authority that wearing a variety of shades gives. The smart solution to your problem lies in astute compromise. Here's how it's done:

Face and Figure Flattery
Wear the colors that flatter your face but wear them in lowered intensities—grayed-down shades.

Among greens for example, olive green is a perfect choice for the brunette with an over-large figure. The green is definitely on the yellow side, yet its key has been reduced. The yellow in the green flatters the creamy complexion. The keying down of the intensity keeps the figure from looming large. And in choosing the new olive greens, you'll be asserting your fashion authority as it is one of the favored shades for the season ahead.

Perk up Appetites with This Tasty Cottage Cheese Salad

By MARY MANNING

Here's a fresh, refreshing salad that perks up jaded summer appetites. Called Hawaiian Salad because of the pineapple gems used in it—but the real secret of its success is in top-fresh and zesty! And that calls for FAIRMONT—the freshest, tastiest cottage cheese you can get.

To make HAWAIIAN SALAD, prepare cherry or strawberry gelatin according to directions on package. When partially set, add pineapple gems, place in ring molds and chill.

To serve, place each gelatin mold on crisp lettuce leaves and top with a tempting mound of snowy FAIRMONT COTTAGE CHEESE and a maraschino cherry.

FAIRMONT COTTAGE CHEESE makes perfectly wonderful salads. It's never too moist—never too dry, but just right. And it's always so fresh, so zesty! Taste it just as it comes from the carton—that's the way to test for flavor. You'll be delighted with its bright, clean, fresh taste.

Get FAIRMONT COTTAGE CHEESE from your grocer. You'll love it.

Introducing— The Thomas Goodners

No camera could catch the engaging warmth of the Goodners' new home in Lincoln, nor the hospitality of the young matron's discreet interior decor. Mrs. Goodner would seem to be a natural for such challenges as colors and good taste, for she was a model for Younkers in Des Moines for several years before her marriage. Not the ordinary fashion model who poses for hours before the hot lamps, but the first one to don the buyer's model of a certain ensemble, was today's new-comer. Accompanying her to the phonograph are her husband, who is the district sales manager for and part-owner of a hybrid seed company, and Timothy, age five, accepting a contribution from eight-year-old Sara.

The Goodners are new neighbors at 4400 A street from Fairfield, Ia., where they resided following Mr. Goodner's discharge from the armed forces, after World War II. Although Mr. Goodner was a forestry major (having entered Iowa State college at the early age of sixteen), he finds his present occupation a fascinating one in the mid-west. Like so many traveling men, Mr. Goodner puts extracurricular hobbies at the bottom of the list; but like so many other men, he has an adulation for athletics! He hopes to find the time this autumn to join his wife in the paint bucket brigade for the kitchen leaves "much to be desired" according to the lady with provocative charm. There is a hand-made home, for Mrs. Goodner immediately took sandpaper et al in hand and went to work manually.

Mrs. Goodner feels that her talents and interests include "a little bit of everything," but is especially fond of decorating. Rather than embracing "civic work," per se, Mrs. Goodner feels that too many community-minded souls leaving their homes and children unattended for hours on end, pay for it in discipline and depreciation problems. In her lifetime she has done her loving share of entertaining and organizational work, and would like to resume those favorites this year when the children are settled in school.

Since they haven't investigated too thoroughly, the Goodners cannot say whether their children will be Holmes or Randolph constituents in six weeks. Tim, whose mind runs on an electric train track, will enter kindergarten, while Sara will spend a great deal of third grade lecture time dreaming of the horses on her grandfather's ranch in California! Last summer, Mrs. Goodner took the children to Tarzana, in the San Francisco valley, to where her parents, formerly of Des Moines, have retired, but this year's vacation may have to become the summer's neglected project. So if you see a little girl about so high with bangs and her hair pulled back, on an equestrian pursuit, you may remember that it was Sara Goodner who has a touch of nostalgia for her grandparents!

Birthday Honoree

Celebrating his 23rd birthday anniversary Tuesday evening, was Pfc. Bud Imlay, who was honored at an informal affair at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Imlay. Included among the 26 guests were the Rev. M. M. Kaczmarek and the Rev. Z. S. Rydz. Pfc. Imlay will return to Camp McCoy, Wis., at the end of the month, following a 15-day furlough.

Wedding At Emerald

Zion Lutheran Church near Emerald was decorated with arrangements of white and pink gladioli, and candles burning in branched candelabra lighted the chancel, for the marriage of Miss Ruth Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo C. Owens of Utica, to Airman 3/c Delmar L. Borchers, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Borchers of Lincoln, on Wednesday evening, July 16.

The Rev. J. C. Nolte read the lines of the 7:30 o'clock service. Miss Marlene Gausman, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Norval Brandt and Mrs. Walt Van Andel who sang, "I Love You Truly," "Because," and "A Wedding Prayer," as the candles were lighted by Miss Geraldine Bredow and Miss Gladys Ficke, both of Utica.

Wearing a frock of pastel blue net over taffeta was the maid of honor Miss Velda Borchers, sister of the bridegroom, and bridesmaids were Miss Norma Wieman of Utica, and Mrs. Robert Meyer of Lincoln, frocked in pink net and taffeta. Net mitts and headbands in matching tone completed their ensembles, and they carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations and blue Esther Reed daisies. The flower girl, Miss Neva Kay Borchers of Denton, wore white net over taffeta, and Miss Bredow and Miss Ficke, who lighted the candles, wore yellow.

The bride appeared in a gown of white Chantilly lace and nylon tulle. Iridescent sequins patterned the deep tulle yoke of the lace bodice, which had long fitted sleeves, and the full-gathered skirt of tulle ended in a train. Her silk illusion veil was held by a cap of tulle petals trimmed with seed pearls, and she carried a white Bible ornamented with an orchid and showers of lilies-of-the-valley.

Serving as best man was Landis Borchers of Denton, and the ushers were Darrell Meyer

MRS. DELMAR L. BORCHERS of Lincoln, and Rex Owens of Utica, Kenneth Owens, of Utica was ringbearer.

A reception for two hundred fifty guests was held at the church after which the couple left for Bryan, Tex., where the bridegroom is stationed with the air force. Mrs. Borchers wore for traveling a navy shantung suit with white accessories.

A former student at Peru State Teachers College, the bride has taught rural school in Seward county.

Early Summer Brides Have Church Weddings

At a 2:30 o'clock wedding on Sunday afternoon, July 6, Miss Betty Lou Wadkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wadkins of David City, became the bride of Kenneth R. Portsche, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Portsche of Lincoln. Arrangements of roses decorated the altar of St. Luke Methodist church at David City, for the ceremony the lines of which were read by the Rev. Merle E. Smith.

As the candles were lighted by Miss Donna Wadkins and Miss Beverly Wadkins, sisters of the bride, Miss Marilyn Thommassen sang "At Dawning," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied by Mrs. Elvin Thommassen, organist, who also played the wedding music.

Miss Elaine Wadkins of David City, was her sister's maid of honor and wore a ballerina frock in the orchid tone. Her crescent bouquet was fashioned of yellow roses. Wearing alike frocks in orchid and yellow were the flower girls, Miss Gail Wadkins, niece of the bride, and Miss Sheryl May, cousin of the bridegroom.

The bride's gown of white nylon net over taffeta was designed with a fitted basque and flaring ankle-length skirt. A snug jacket of net, accented by long sleeves and trimmed with insertions of Chantilly lace, completed her costume, and her short veil of illusion was held by a cap of the net. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Douglas Wells of Lincoln, served as best man, and the ushers were William Rosenthal, Jr., and Robert May, Jr., both of Lincoln and cousins of the bridegroom.

Pre-Nuptial Shower

Miss Kathleen Roberts, who will become the bride of John Brewer on Saturday evening, July 26, will be honored Friday evening when Mrs. Merle Karpnopp will entertain informally at her home. A one-gift shower will be presented to the honoree.

The wedding will be solemnized at 8 o'clock at Trinity Methodist church.

McGranery Orders International Oil Cartel Probe

5 U.S. Firms Are To Face Grand Jury

WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorney General James P. McGranery announced Thursday night a federal grand jury will investigate a reputed international oil cartel involving seven of the world's largest oil companies.

McGranery told a news conference he proposed to seek criminal indictments and at the same time will file a civil anti-trust action designed to end alleged monopolistic practices and restraints of trade.

McGranery named the companies whose activities will be investigated by a grand jury sitting here as:

Two Foreign Firms
Standard Oil of New Jersey, Standard Oil of California, The Texas Co., Socony-Vacuum, and Gulf Oil, all U. S. concerns, and two foreign groups—Royal Dutch Shell and Anglo-Iranian Oil Co.

McGranery's announcement came on the heels of a demand by Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) for a Congressional investigation of what he termed an international oil combine involving five American and two British concerns.

Hennings said the combine dominates U.S. foreign policy in the Middle East, Indonesia and Venezuela.

The Missouri Senator said the seven companies "own and control, lock, stock and barrel, practically the entire world oil industry outside the United States."

He said six of them dominate the U. S. oil industry.

Hennings further declared that the combine "operates as an independent world government, dictating its own terms for petroleum without which the industry and the army of the free world could not run."

In New York, Eugene Holman, president of Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, said just last week that his company was not a party to illegal practices of any kind.

None of the other companies involved had comment on the announcement.

Democrats Have Texas Troubles

CHICAGO (INS)—The "It's" of Texas got their first convention glimpse of Chicago Thursday— from different sides of the Democratic fence.

It is the "official and only accredited" delegation from the Lone Star State—arrived to fight it out for seats to the Democratic National Convention.

Gov. Allan Shivers heads one of the groups. Maury Maverick, former congressman, leads the other.

The Texans split their solid star into opposing lights when the Shivers force refused to endorse a presidential candidate until the party platform—especially that on civil rights—had been presented.

Maverick then led his faction from the Texas convention. He claimed his group totaled 627 out of the 1,213 delegates.

Maverick emphasized Thursday that his group "represents all Texas" while Shivers' followers are "sunshine patriots" who just heard of the Democratic Party.

Mrs. Truman Hurries Back To Bedside Of Ailing President

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Bess Truman hurried back to Washington to the hospital bedside of her mildly ailing husband Thursday because she thought "Harry might be lonesome."

Arriving by train from Independence, Mo., Mrs. Truman was driven directly to the Army's Walter Reed Hospital. There, in the plush presidential suite, her husband was patiently undergoing a series of tests that might show, among other things, whether his strength has been sapped by seven gruelling years in the White House.

Aides said Truman, recovering from a mild virus infection, spent a "very good night," and Presidential Secretary Joseph Short told newsmen:

"The President expects to be back in the White House by Saturday."

The 68-year-old chief executive entered the hospital Wednesday. It was the first time he has been hospitalized since he took office on the death of the late President Franklin O. Roosevelt in April, 1945.

White House officials emphasized that the President was suffering little or no discomfort and appeared to be enjoying himself.

Aides said Truman only consented to enter the hospital at the request of his personal physician, Maj. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, to facilitate the medical tests Graham wanted to make with hospital equipment.

Although Mrs. Truman wasn't sent for, she decided to return to Washington to have a look for herself and to keep the President company. She left the bedside of her ailing and aged mother, Mrs. David Wallace, in Independence Wednesday.

Meanwhile, Truman caught up on his correspondence, dictating to a stenographer, and worked to clear away a logjam of bills awaiting his signature.

The President, who first complained of feeling under the weather on Sunday, was described as improving steadily.

$20,294 Pledged To Cedars Drive

A total of $20,294 has been subscribed to the Cedars Building Fund campaign to construct a new building for the Cedars Home for Children.

This was announced by Co-chairmen Joseph J. Carlotto and Louis H. Babst at a report luncheon held at the Capital Hotel. The goal is $55,000.

Speaker at the luncheon was LeRoy Hultberg, director of the Lancaster County Department of Public Welfare, who stated, "This community could not get along without the Cedars."

Hultberg said that the Department of Public Welfare has long felt the need for a "study home" in the community, where children can be placed for study and observation before a long plan can be made for them. "The Cedars Home for Children," Hultberg said, "is the only agency in the county which answers this need."

Suit Against Film Head Howard Hughes Settled

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The $250,000 damage suit brought against movie mogul Howard Hughes by actress Jean Simmons and her husband actor Stewart Granger, was dismissed Thursday when their attorneys announced that an out-of-court settlement had been reached.

In granting the motion of dismissal, Superior Judge Ernest A. Tolin exonerated Granger and Miss Simmons from any implication of tax fraud which had featured trial of the suit.

Procter & Gamble's fabulous

Lilt with "Naturalizer!"

GIVES LONGEST-LASTING WAVE POSSIBLE IN SHORTEST TIME POSSIBLE TODAY!

And...even more like Naturally Curly Hair than ever before!

Compare Lilt WITH THOSE NO-NEUTRALIZER WAVES!
SEE WHY LILT WAVES take 5 HOURS LESS TIME and LAST up to 3 TIMES LONGER!
(Two girls start at same time—3 o'clock Saturday afternoon)

LILT WITH "NATURALIZER"
1st step She started her Lilt at 3 o'clock. It took her only about an hour to finish the entire waving lotion step—including test curls!
First step finished—4:14 o'clock
2nd step She used "Naturalizer" to make her wave really permanent! Her wave is now finished...
Now her hair is set in pin curls for her hairdo!
LILT WAVE FINISHED—and hairdo styled too—IN LESS THAN 2 HOURS! 4:52 o'clock
Ready for a glamorous evening!
Pin curls dry fast (but hair wound on curlers does not). So, by 6:30, her Lilt is already brushed and combed into a smart, lovely hairdo!
And best of all, her Lilt wave is so permanent—so much like Naturally Curly Hair, it will last months and months!
LILT WAVES LAST up to 3 TIMES LONGER!

"NATURALIZER"... New miracle ingredient is used like a neutralizer, but is a vast improvement over regular neutralizers!
"NATURALIZER" makes Lilt wave most permanent possible today!
"NATURALIZER" also leaves hair in far better condition... much Softer... more Manageable... so Healthy looking... more "Natural"!

ALL NO-NEUTRALIZER WAVES
1st step She also started at 3 o'clock. She has wound her hair on curlers and applied waving lotion, according to directions; rinsed with water (or used towel to remove excess lotion).
First step finished—4:00 o'clock
2nd step (which you may not know about) She is now starting to WAIT 6 HOURS, with her hair on curlers. (With all No-Neutralizer products, you need this slow drying on curlers.)
STILL WAITING! She has 5 more HOURS to wait! She's getting worried, because she has a date at seven!
2 HOURS GONE—5 MORE TO GO
NO DATE FOR HER TONIGHT! She still has HOURS TO WAIT! Her 6 hours of waiting won't be up until 10 o'clock!
10 O'CLOCK—SECOND STEP FINISHED...
7 hours after she started! And LOOK at that kinky, frizzy hair—because it dried on the curlers! Now she has to re-wet her hair and set it in pin curls! POOR GIRL!
But what she still does NOT know is—
HER WAVE IS ONLY SEMI-PERMANENT! Won't last nearly as long as a Lilt.

REFILL still only $1.25* plus tax
NOW... with "NATURALIZER" in this familiar package

NOW— gives longest-lasting wave possible today! Even more like Naturally Curly Hair than ever before!

Nebraska Committee For State Board Of Education Organized

Thirty-seven Nebraskans, including gubernatorial candidates Walter R. Rasmussen and Robert B. Crosby, have organized a Nebraska Committee for a State Board of Education under the leadership of educational and affiliated organizations in the state. The purpose of the committee is to acquaint the people of Nebraska with the legislative proposal for a state Board of Education which would have responsibilities for elementary and secondary education. The proposal will be voted on at the regular November election.

County committees will be organized to work with the state committee in developing understanding of the proposal for the state board.

Members of the state committee are:

A. Behrens, Plattsmouth
Mark D. Bock, Benkelman
Richard Brown, Holdrege
W. E. Bucher, Omaha
Harry A. Burke, Omaha

Rites At Atkinson For Crash Victim

ATKINSON, Neb. (AP)—Funeral services will be held here Friday for Charles E. Barnes, who came back to Atkinson from Korea on Navy leave to attend his father's funeral and was killed in an auto accident.

Barnes, 22, was killed when his car apparently went out of control and left a county road one mile east and three south of Atkinson, the state safety patrol said. The car smashed into two trees.

The death was Nebraska's 156th traffic fatality of the year. A year ago there had been 145.

Collins' Late Homer Gives Yankees Split With Tribe

Angling Angles

By Jim Clark

A near record 42-pound channel catfish provided Mr. Harvey Ross of Columbus with the winning catch for the Lincoln Star's "Fisherman of the Week" award. This being a mere four pounds away from the state record for the Channel cat.

Ross was fishing in the Platte River east of Columbus when he landed the mammoth catch. And if it hadn't been for the small carp he hooked earlier in the day he probably wouldn't have caught it.

Rather than throw the carp back he decided to rig up a little willow pole and use the carp for bait. And it was this decision that cost this fish his watery home.

Ross stated that after setting the pole he went back to fishing with his rod and reel. It wasn't until about a half hour later he said that he noticed a sharp tugging on the line but the fish had apparently been on the hook quite a while, "because it didn't give me any trouble at all when I pulled it out."

In contrast to recent game commission reports on the inactivity of the fish now, this week's award winner states that he never had such good luck. To back up this statement, he said that in only four outings he has hauled in 35 channel cats of legal size.

Two-On-One Hook

By way of oddity, Mr. F. E. Brigner of Oxford sends us one of those believe it or not stories that usually rise during the sport of fishing.

While most fishermen have been having trouble lately landing a single fish, Mr. Brigner discovered while in the process of dressing a bullhead that he caught in the Swanson Lake south of Holdrege that he had caught not one, but two fish on the same hook.

The first weighed in at 1 1/4 pounds and measured 12 inches in length. But it wasn't until six hours later when Brigner was cleaning his catch that he discovered something oozing from its mouth.

Closer examination showed it to be another bullhead about an inch and a half long, and still very much full of life after its strange ordeal.

A Fruitful Trip

Four Lincolinites, all members of the Nebraska Better Fishing Association, decided that they needed a little variety in their fishing. So with baggage in car, they took off for the heart of the Loess in the Woods in Canada last week.

Upon returning the four—Rex Graham, George Hawthorne, Carl Peterson and Junior Burbuck—exclaimed it was the greatest fishing experience they have ever encountered.

With Walleye fishing as their chief target, they commented that their desires were more than fulfilled after the first day on the lake.

And what fisherman wouldn't be delighted to be in a party that hauled in 60 Canadian Walleyes, the largest weighing ten pounds, during the course of a day.

CANADIAN WALLEYE—Carl Peterson found his first fishing trip to the Lake of the Woods in Canada very eventful, and for proof he shows off the 10 1/2 pound Walleye that he landed. After getting the fish out of the water, it freed itself from the hook but alert action by Peterson's guide and his expert use of a net saved the catch for Peterson.

Defending Champ Hyland Defeated By Mrs. Murray

By JIM CLARK
(Star Sports Staff Member)

AFTER a two year reign, Lincoln will have a new woman golf champion today when the women wrap up their city tournament at Pioneers.

Mrs. D. E. Murray made sure of this Thursday when she set down Defending Champion Mrs. Paul Hyland, 1-up, in the semi-finals. Mrs. Hyland, seeking her third straight crown, carded an 88 over the par 82 course to trail her victor by a single stroke.

Their cards:

Par out	655	355	355	42
Hyland out	765	356	454	45
Murray out	658	456	354	44
Par in	555	445	354	40

When the women tee-off 8:30 a.m. today, Mrs. Murray will be pitted against Mrs. Carl Fisher for the championship title. Mrs. Fisher reached the finals with a 1-up victory over Mrs. Adna Dobson in the semi-finals Thursday.

Vying for first flight honors in the 18-hole bracket will be Mrs. Ted Franks, who scored a 3 and 1 victory over Mrs. Carl Lessner, and Mrs. Harry Scott, who had a convincing 9-7 conquest of Mrs. Charles Pierce. Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Fisher both carded 90's in Canada last week.

Upon returning the four—Rex Graham, George Hawthorne, Carl Peterson and Junior Burbuck—exclaimed it was the greatest fishing experience they have ever encountered.

With Walleye fishing as their chief target, they commented that their desires were more than fulfilled after the first day on the lake.

And what fisherman wouldn't be delighted to be in a party that hauled in 60 Canadian Walleyes, the largest weighing ten pounds, during the course of a day.

Did You Know Your Dog Could Talk?

DURING one of our recent pursuits, a study of the training of dogs, we came to the conclusion that man's best friend has a definite language.

Look at your doggie. Mongrel or purebred, you owe it to him to understand his language which is sometimes silent, sometimes audible and nearly always conveyed through movement.

"Surely you can be as obliging and considerate in this matter as he is and teach him your language in return," writes our authority, Harry East, who has tutored many movie dogs.

Time has arrived for you to look and listen at your favorite Rover.

When he speaks to you with his voice, his meaning is very clear. His sharp, high yaps, accompanied by a wagging tail and occasional squats to the ground are telling you that he is ready for a romp. He is saying, "Come on! Let's go!"

A mournful howl does not require an interpreter. We all know what that means. He is grieving for some absent member of the family—some loved one. His tones say, "Why do you leave me behind? I'm so lonely."

When your dog barks at the door or gate with deep, definite tones, while the hair is raising on his back, he is saying, "Keep out of here! This is my master's place!"

A growl is easily translated into our language. It means "Don't tease me. I don't like it." Notice sometime that, even while your dog is growling, his eyes often plead not to force him into self-protection.

When you are depressed, your dog understands and his tail will sink between his legs in perfect sympathy with your mood. This movement says, "I am sorry, old friend." If his tail is completely turned under his legs until it clings to his stomach, he is filled with self-pity and is saying, "Why should I receive such abuse?"

When his tail stands out straight from his body, motionless, while he looks upon some newly-found object or animal, he is saying, "Is this a friend or foe?"

In line with speaking with his tail, a gay wag means simply, "Isn't life grand?"

A hunting dog, with his game at bay, has a bark entirely different from the one he uses while on the chase. His excited, rumbling war-cry, used when he is running, is suddenly changed to a series of deep, throaty calls for help when the quarry is cornered or treed. Every hunt is familiar with the game-dog's speech. The bark used when he has an animal at bay calls, over hill and dale, "Come on! I've got him!"

They speak with their ears, too. Ears erect means, "What's that?" Ears alternately erect and lowered while watching a person eat, say, "That looks good. Give me some." Ears flat to the head say dejectedly, "Oh, what's the use? I never seem to please."

Your dog's eyes are also important. When they stare at you longingly, earnestly, he is telling you, "I think you're grand." When they twinkle and blink, he is remarking, "That's a funny one!" When they blink thoughtfully and pleadingly at you while you dress, he knows you are going out and most likely without him, so his eyes ask, "Can't I go along?"

Tongues are important, too, in the universal dog language. A hurried lap at your hand when his feed time is past is a reminder, "When do I eat?" Several long licks at hand or face, say, "You're a real pal!" When your dog roots your hand with his nose, he is telling you that he wants a little petting as a guarantee of your affection.

Take a look at your dog, Mister. We'll wager he's talking to you at this very moment.

Bobby Shantz Wins 16th As A's, Browns Divide

From Press Dispatches

Joe Collins hit a dramatic ninth-inning home run to give the New York Yankees a 5-4 nightcap win and a split in their doubleheader with the Cleveland Indians and little Bobby Shantz, the Philadelphia A's lefty, beat the St. Louis Browns, 3-1, with a six hitter to win his 16th game of the season in major league baseball highlights Thursday.

Collins lofted a towering drive barely inside the right field foul line with two out in the last half of the ninth inning to give the Yankees the second game after Cleveland handed Allie Reynolds his first kayo of the season, rolling up an 11-6 first game triumph.

Collins' homer, his 10th of the season and his second of the evening, came with Bob Lemon on the mound. He had replaced starter Mike Garcia after the Indians had tied the score in their half of the ninth on Pinch-hitter Barney McCosky's home run into the Yankee bullpen in right.

Shantz' win gave the A's a split in their doubleheader at Shibe Park. Tommy Byrne hurled the Browns to a 9-5 win in the opener and helped assure the victory by slamming out two singles, a double and a home run.

Shantz started a third inning rally which netted Philadelphia two runs with a single off starter Ned Garver, who had to leave the game after four innings because of a sore elbow.

St. Louis' lone run off Shantz was a seventh inning homer by Outfielder Jim Dyck. It was the midwest southpaw's third straight over the Browns this season and 17th complete game of the year.

Of 11 major league games played Thursday, only the opening halves of the Cleveland-New York and Athletics-Browns doubleheaders were decided by margins greater than two runs.

In two other American League contests, the Boston Red Sox beat the Chicago White Sox, 2-1, and the Washington Senators topped the Detroit Tigers, 1-0.

In the National League, the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-2 in the nightcap of a twin bill; all other loop tussles were one-run affairs.

The Bucs won the opener, 2-1, while the Brooklyn Dodgers beat the Cincinnati Reds by the same margin in 11 innings. The Boston Braves were 1-0 masters of the Chicago Cubs and the St. Louis Cardinals turned back the second-place New York Giants, 3-2.

Lucky A's Nip Indians

KELLINGTON, Kas. (AP)—Lincoln defeated Wichita 9-8 in the first game of a three-game series as the Indians moved here Thursday night in their home-away-from-home schedule.

Junior Reedy, Lincoln center-fielder, provided the big poke of the night, a grand slam homer over the left field fence 320 feet away. Reedy, who is a left-hand swing, scored the shot in the third inning to get the A's off to a big start.

Lincoln got off to its big lead when Ken Weiss swas safe on an error. Bill Shantz and Jim Trew walked to load the bases and Reedy followed with his homer which netted four runs.

Lincoln got two more in the fifth when Trew singled, Reedy walked, and Bob Gardner was safe on an error to load the bases. Bill Stewart singled Trew and Reedy in.

Lincoln scored the winning run in the top of the ninth on a walk to Gardner and a long double by Stewart.

The second game tonight will find Ed Hrabesak (7-2) on the mound for the A's and Ernie Trujillo (0-2) for Wichita.

New York Girl Killed By Mad, Frustrated Student

Boston Man Claimed Key Eternal Life

NEW YORK (AP)—A frustrated electronics student, claiming the key to eternal life, said Thursday he killed a blonde stenographer at Columbia University just because his weird theories were ignored.

The man, 29-year-old Bayard P. Peakes, was gunning for the physicists who had scorned his book "How to Live Forever". When he didn't find them, he settled for winsome Eileen Fahey, whom fate placed in his path.

"I just wanted to kill somebody," police quoted Peakes after his arrest Thursday at his Boston rooming house, where he was trapped by the slimmest of clues. He was brought back to New York.

He didn't even know Miss Fahey, pretty 18-year-old employee of the American Physical Society, to which Peakes once belonged. It sponsors research and papers on physics and electronics.

Complete Confession
The society has offices on Columbia's campus, although it is not a part of the university.

Assistant District Attorney Carl G. Row claimed a complete confession from Peakes and added: "He felt if he killed a few physicists in New York, he would get publicity and an opportunity to develop his theories."

Miss Fahey fell screaming Monday beneath a hail of bullets at the hands of a "thin man" who invaded the campus for what looked like an aimless slaying.

"She just happened to be the first person I met in the office," police said Peakes told them. He is a tall man, with short, bushy black hair.

Afterwards, Peakes took a train back to Boston.

Peakes claimed the society had shrugged off his treatises on electronic means of prolonging human life forever.

Peakes' capture was a masterful bit of police work by Detectives Louis J. Behrens, Herman J. Linde, James A. Walsh and James A. Corcoran.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan called theirs "an exceptionally fine job."

Without clues, they checked the files of the American Physical Society on the suggestion that some disgruntled member might be the killer. Peakes' testy correspondence with the society made him suspect and the detectives trailed him to Boston.

The young man, himself, told of suffering from dementia praecox, which won him a mental dis-

Mrs. Schwarz' Estate Appraised At $33,733

Mrs. Nellie Schwarz, who died Jan. 11, left an estate valued at $33,733, according to an appraisal filed in County Court.

The widow of Charles F. Schwarz, founder of the Schwarz Paper Company, she left 64.29 shares in the company, valued at $20,606, and 94 shares in the Beatrice Foods Company, valued at $3,301. The rest of the appraisal contained miscellaneous items.

Husband Files Suit For Affections Alienation

Charging that Merrill B. Wiltshire had "maliciously enticed his wife away from him, Rollin E. Owens has filed a $10,000 alienation of affections suit in District Court.

Owens charged that Wiltshire had showed "marked attention" to his wife for several months, thus causing him "great distress of body and mind." He claimed that his wife had been induced to leave him.

Owens and his wife—formerly Alberta L. Gibson Patterson—were married in Council Bluffs, Ia., on Feb. 1, 1941, and have two children, the petition stated.

CCC Brings Two Suits For Loan Collections

Two suits have been filed in Federal Court in connection with corn marketing operations of the Commodity Credit Corporation.

The suits charge that Richard Packett, Nebraska City, and Clara Beckmann, Sterling, owe the government money, since promissory notes have not been paid.

Packett owes the corporation $562 on two notes, both dated Nov. 19, 1949, according to the petition. Mrs. Beckmann owes $133, on a March 1, 1951 note, the suit states.

Malik Delays His Departure For Moscow

U.N. Officials Surprised By Action

By PIERRE J. HUSS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS)—Soviet delegate Jacob Malik Thursday cancelled his scheduled departure for Russia next week and touched off immediate speculation on the possibility of a major development in the Korean truce talks.

The Russian diplomat had booked passage for home on the Holland-American liner Nieuw Amsterdam, sailing from New York for Rotterdam July 22.

The cancellation came as a complete surprise to U.N. officials and diplomats, who are aware on the basis of past experience that such a change in plan by a Russian high official almost invariably follows orders from the Kremlin.

Malik's delay in departure for home comes at a moment when the truce talks at Pannunjom have reached a critical stage.

Reds Refuse Comment

Optimistic reports have come from Tokyo and elsewhere on a possible break in the truce stalemate. The fact that the government of Red China recently ratified the Geneva convention on war prisoners increased the optimism, although the Communists may only be laying the basis for a new propaganda drive against the United States.

A main factor is that the only outstanding issue at Pannunjom is the exchange of prisoners of war, with the U.N. insisting that those who do not want to go back home will be kept in the U.N. camps.

The Communists are equally insistent that all be sent home, by force if necessary.

The Soviet delegation on Park Avenue in mid-Manhattan refused comment on Malik's cancellation of his ship reservation.

Institutional Spending Less Than Budget

By ARCH DONOVAN
(Star Staff Writer)

The institutions under the state board of control have expended less than 93 per cent of funds allotted to them for the first year of the biennium which ended July 1, Mrs. Harold Prince, chairman of the board, reported Thursday.

The board allotted to the 18 institutions for the first year $10,265,311 and expenditures were $9,574,173.

Superintendents and business managers of the institutions were praised by Mrs. Prince "not particularly for operating within the budget set for them, but primarily for getting full value for every tax dollar spent."

"The savings were not at the expense of the wards of the state or in underpaying employees," she continued. "Salaries have been increased and never have the state wards been better fed, housed, clothed and given educational opportunities the equal of the past year."

Mrs. Prince said the board "has been vigilant in its efforts to encourage constant appraisal of expenditures with the idea of using tax dollars where they will give the most benefit to the persons being cared for in our institutions."

This appraisal has included evaluating expenditures of the preceding month and plans for the next month's needs. Caution has been urged in requisitioning items for institution use with a local determination of "is this item necessary?"

Response of the individual institutions was shown by the report of the percentage of each one's allotment that had been encumbered as follows:

Children And Pets, All Kinds, Out In Full Force For Show

The inseparable mixture of children and pets, 60 of the former and 13 of the latter, were out in full force at Bethany Grade School Thursday night to attend a pet show.

The noisy menagerie was sponsored by the city recreation department.

Dogs, kittens, rabbits and pigeons were judged on the basis of the most unusual, the best presented, and the cutest.

Winners were:

Best Presented: Joe Hyland, 6034 Francis, first; Donna Tanner, 6619 Astleworth, second; Kenna Hollett, 6035 Astleworth, third.

Most unusual: Diane Billow, 955 No. 66th, first; Alan Yates, 1240 No. 96th, second; Shari Davis, 6420 Colby, third.

Cutest pet: Loreta Fournier, 6959 Lexington, first; Nancy Wobig, 6810 Fairfax, second; Susan Davis, 6420 Colby, third.

Orville Glass judged and awarded prizes. City recreation leaders Phyllis Bloss and Jerry Oehring aided in presenting the pets for judging.

Success Predicted For Bus-Ed Day

An optimistic outlook for the success of Lincoln's Business-Education day set for Aug. 29 was taken Thursday by J. R. Pratt of Minneapolis, northwest division manager of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, who spoke to more than 50 representatives of participating firms.

Pratt, in Lincoln to help Chamber of Commerce officials outline plans for "B-E Day," said the committees were "way ahead in planning."

The event is expected to be participated in by 800 public and parochial school teachers and more than 50 firms. The teachers will be divided into groups and make all-day visits to business establishments.

Bonnie Smith's
RECIPE OF THE WEEK
STUFFED HAMBURGER ROLL

2 cups (1 lb.) hamburger
1 egg, unbeaten
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup butter
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 qt. soft 1/2" bread cubes, made from Smith's bread
1/2 cup sweet piccalilli
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon sage
1/4 cup milk

1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon sage
Combine the above ingredients

Melt butter in skillet, add onion, cook until tender. Four piccalilli, salt, pepper and sage over soft bread cubes. Add milk—mix well. Spread hamburger mixture on waxed paper, shape into rectangular sheet. Top layer of hamburger with layer of bread stuffing, roll as a jelly roll, bake in shallow pan, 350° for thirty minutes. Serves 6.

Deputy 'Gets His Man' But Only After 'Chase'

Deputy Sheriffs Robert Anderson and Lyle Jewett may take their track shoes with them on night patrol duty after this.

They were ordered to pick up Lawrence F. Rohrs, 20, Waverly, who is wanted by the Army on charges of being absent without leave. They found him, and as they were talking, Rohrs started running. Anderson and Jewett followed.

Although Jewett tripped, Anderson kept up the chase through Waverly, and finally caught up with Rohrs about a half mile later. Rohrs was then hand-cuffed and taken to Lincoln.

"I'm a little out of condition for this sort of thing," commented Anderson.

Band Concert Soloists.—John C. Whaley, vocalist, will sing two solos, "Deep River," and "Some Enchanted Evening," and Roper Brendle will play a trumpet solo, "Valse Brillante" at the Lincoln Municipal Band concert at 7:30 p.m., Sunday in Antelope Park.

$1,904 Judgment.—Charley F. Durham has been awarded $1,904 by District Judge Spencer in connection with a suit involving payments for property. Durham claimed that Lawrence F. Smith owed him money for a Jan. 1, 1948 purchase of property. He claimed that Smith had abandoned the property and failed to pay for it.

Road Damage Charged.—A complaint charging Marshall G. Stahnke, doing business as the Stahnke Plumbing Co., with injuring a public road has been filed in Lancaster County Court. The complaint, signed by County Engineer Louis Weaver, charges that Stahnke damaged West Q Street half a block west of State Street. Weaver said that Stahnke had failed to tamp down dirt in a sewer ditch, leaving a "dangerous mound" across the road, as well as injuring the gravel.

Miss Gere Still Better

After many weeks of poor condition in a Grass Valley, Calif., hospital Francis Gere, a Lincoln woman who was seriously injured in a car-truck accident last June, was reported Thursday as "definitely doing a little better."

Her sister Mariel, who was also injured in the accident, "continues to do all right."

Samuel Bradley Rites Will Be At Agra, Kan.

Funeral and burial for retired farmer Samuel G. Bradley, 65, of Agra, Kan., who died at a local hospital here Wednesday, will be at Agra.

He had been at the hospital for 34 days. Mr. Bradley was born May 6, 1887, in Phillips County.

Surviving are his wife, Effie; two sons, Walter and Earl, both of Agra, and a daughter, Mrs. Morris Andersen of Omaha.

NOW, TIDE WASHES CLOTHES WHITER THAN YOU CAN BLEACH THEM!

In fact, TIDE washes WHITER than any soap or "detergent" with bleach added!

IT'S A NEW TIDE MIRACLE!
NO MORE NEED TO BLEACH EXCEPT FOR STUBBORN STAINS!

Now, thanks to TIDE—you can actually wash clothes whiter than you can bleach them! (Even if you soak them in bleach overnight!) In fact, Tide washes whiter than any other washing product with a bleach added! Try it—and when you see how much whiter your clothes come with Tide alone, you'll never want to put bleach in the wash water again!

Cleaner clothes, too! When you rinse out a Tide wash, you've got cleaner clothes than you can get with any soap of any kind! No soap known gets out so much grimy dirt, yet leaves clothes so free of dulling film! There's nothing like Tide!

THE WASH TEST PROVES TIDE WASHES WHITER! YOU CAN SEE THE DIFFERENCE!

Make a suds with any washing product, add bleach, then wash a load of white clothes. Wash a second load in Tide suds alone. Then compare! The Tide-washed clothes will be so much whiter, you'll never want to bleach again, except for stubborn stains!

Wash with Tide ALONE

Wash with ANY OTHER WASHING PRODUCT with bleach added

NO OTHER WASHING PRODUCT CAN PROMISE ALL THIS!

Washes clothes WHITER than you can bleach them!

Gets clothes CLEANER than any soap of any kind!

MILDER for hands than any other leading "detergent"!

TIDE is milder for hands than any other leading "detergent." So safe for washable colors!

YES! With all its cleaning and whitening action, Tide has an amazing new mildness. Not even the leading "detergents" made especially for dishwashing are so kind to hands as Tide!

ACTUALLY BRIGHTENS COLORS! For dramatic proof of Tide's safety, watch soap-dulled colors come brighter after one Tide wash. Yes, Tide really cares for all colored washables!

AND TIDE IS SO THRIFTY TO USE! Such a little Tide makes such oceans of rich, long-lasting suds . . . goes so far in hardest water, it's a miracle of economy.

"Never saw my wash so white before!"
says Mrs. Natalie Walden of Miami, Florida.

"I assumed you had to bleach to get clothes really white. But Tide—alone—washed my clothes whiter than I ever got them with bleach in the wash water. I could see the difference!"

the fellow who doesn't have them stands in about the same relation to the nomination as Taft.

WASHINGTON.—George Washington may have been first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen, but if Dwight D. Eisenhower is elected President he'll be first in a lot of things, too.

The records show he would be the first President whose first name has only one syllable, his last as many as four; the first whose first name began with the letter D and his last with E.

Not only that, he would be the first President born in Texas and the first general elected to the Chief Executive's post in the 20th century.

Of the 32 Presidents in U.S. history, 17 first names show up only once on the list. There are two Andrews and Franklins, three Williams and Johns, and five James.

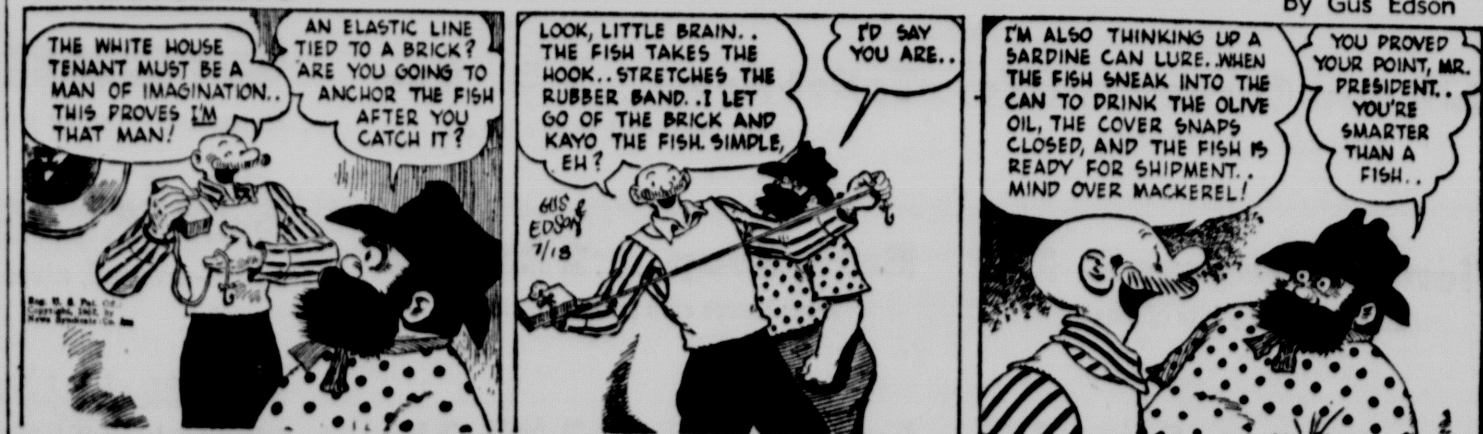

Here's How To Work It

ALONG FELLOW
 One letter simply stands for another. In the example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
